1. During [] recent visit, the [] matter was discussed. It was explained to [] that the promise to look into the case had not been forgotten. Every possible avenue of approach in obtaining access to [] was explored locally, without fruit. The inevitable conclusion was that we would somehow have to reopen the matter at its point of origin in Heidelberg. We told [] that since other business would very soon bring us into that area, that we would then take up the [] matter and attempt to arrange for another LCFLUTTER by ODOPAL through our Heidelberg office.

2. Since [] departure, however, a new development has occurred in the case. [] in a recent contact with CABOLT was presented with a document which purports to be an agreement by [] to work for the RIS. The agreement is rather lengthy and detailed and was signed on 21 April 1942 at a time when [] claims to have been released from prison.

3. CABOLT received this document with an anonymous letter from a German who claimed to have been an RIS courier at one time, and who wants now to assuage his conscience for his espionage work by sending this remnant to CAVIRIL. Other than providing this particular document with the anonymous letter, the self-styled ex-courier disclosed nothing of any other activity with the RIS.

4. This development casts a new light on the [] case and may make it possible for MOB CART to enter the picture. Needless to say, the letter in question is being considered with a great deal of suspicion here as an attempt by the RIS to discredit []. In any case, we may now be in a position to accomplish the long-sought goal of obtaining the necessary information about Subject, so that consideration for his clearance for employment with PBCHORD can go forward. No definite plans have been laid for the next step to be taken in this case. MUNI 3147 has been sent to headquarters and to Frankfurt in order to elicit their ideas in the case.
